“We are surrounded by so great a cloud of witnesses”

At all times, indeed, but especially when I reflect upon the achievements of the saints, it comes over me to feel despondency concerning my own condition, because we have not even in dreams experienced the things among which those men spent their whole lives: not paying the penalty of sins, always doing rightly and yet always afflicted. ... And having spoken of that which befell the apostles ...Elijah suffered the same thing with them, and the Son of Man. ...For God has provided some better thing for us. In order that they might not seem to have the advantage from being crowned before us, He appointed one time for the crowning of all. ...Do you see His tender carefulness? –St. John Chrysostom, Homily 28 on Hebrews 11:1,2.
